On Wednesday the 10th. inst., Levi Sager of Winnifred District appeared at Bow Island before George Leman J.P. charged with contravention of the "Domestic Animals Act," this was a case in which Dr. Munro charged Sager with restraining an entire horse (illegally) contrary to the provisions of the Domestic Animal Act of Alberta. In this case the defendant captured this animal and kept him on his farm sending word to Munro about four days after by a party, that he had the animal, the owner went to Sager's same day to get the animal, but could not get the animal, as Sager wanted to see him first, but that allowed under the act, Sager had not notified the owner until the 14th. inst. when he sent word by mail, after hearing the evidence on both sides, the justice found the accused guilty of the charge. The animal was captured in a Pound District, and should have been taken to the Pound, this animal was captured on April 20th., accused was fined $1.00 and Costs, and Dr. Munro ordered to pay Sager $10.00 for the keep of the animal

Any party obtaining a stray animal in a Pound District, if the owner is known, can impound an animal on his premises for three days, and notify the owner in writing, if the owner is not known to the finder, it is his duty to take the animal to the nearest Pound and put in his claim for the fee payable under the Act to the Pound-keeper, who will collect same from the owner when animal is claimed

Robert A. Anderson, appeared at Bow Island on Tuesday the 22nd. inst. before E.N. Cancer Cure Has Been Found

Liverpool Professor Finds Colloidal of Lead Does the Work

NEW YORK, May 22.—An apparent cure for Cancer, consisting of a solution of colloidal of lead, which is an enemy of diseased tissues, has been discovered by Professor Blair Bell of Liverpool University, according to Dr. L. E. Houghbey of Concordia, Kansas, who returned on the President Adams after studying surgery abroad for several years

Dr. Bell, professor of gynecology, spent 18 years in developing the cure, said Dr. Houghbey, who added that during the last year Dr. Bell treated more than fifty cancer cases and in none of these did the disease return. The cure has not been made known to the world because of Dr. Bell's reticence and his desire to treat more cases before making it generally known.

Mount Royal Still Artists Are Caught

Father Fined $500 and Son Fined $1,368.88

CALGARY—George W. Packwood was fined $500 and costs and his son, George A. Packwood, was fined making a total of $1,368.88, including penalties, when convicted under the Inland Revenue Act, of operating a monster still in Mount Royal, Calgary's "highbrow" residential district

They still face charges under the Liquor Act. The younger Packwood pleaded guilty, but his father will appeal

The still had a hundred gallons a day capacity, witness stated. Forty-eight gallons of well-made "moonshine" were seized when the police made the raid

James Dalgetty, excise officer, testified that after his arrest the elder Packwood told him, "Yes I voted for prohibition and I'll vote for it again."

BONAR LAW RESIGNS PREMIERSHIP

Canadian Born Premier of Britain forced, because of Ill Health, to Resign, Curzon Likely to Succeed

Country Greatly Shocked at Forced Decision of the Premier; King Has Summoned No Person as Yet to Consult Re Successor; Sympathy from Party Leaders

LONDON, May 21.—Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, the Prime Minister, sent his resignation to the King Sunday night because of ill-health; he was unable to present it personally. Thus ends the Canadian-born premier's brief, but eventful administration, and it ends with important and perplexing problems, particularly Great Britain's relations with France and Russia unsettled.

The King will summon one of the Conservative leaders to form a new cabinet. It is generally accepted that Marquis Curzon will be the next premier.

The Crisis comes upon the government in the midst of the holiday, when parliament is dispersed and few members of the government are in London.

Country Not Prepared For the Announcement

Two days ago, when the result of Mr. Bonar Law's consultation with physicians in Paris became known, this end was foreseen, but the country was not prepared for it and will await development with anxiety and regrets over the untimely dropping of a trusted pilot.

One consolation, it is generally conceded, Mr. Bonar Law will have, is that he has no enemies and that no one will withhold from him sympathy. He accepted his high office with reluctance; he leaves it amidst unfeigned regrets on the part of both supporters and opposition.

Mr. Bonar Law's resignation was taken to the king at Aldershot by Col. Waterhouse, the Prime Minister's private secretary, and Sir Frederick Sykes, his son-in-law, who motored from London. They had a lengthy audience with the King, who appeared much moved by the news of the aggravated condition of Mr. Bonar Law's health. It is officially stated that the King has no intention of interrupting his visit to Aldershot. In any case, if necessity arises, he is only an hour's drive from London. According to present plans he will return to Buckingham Palace on Friday.

Bonar Law Undergoes Operation

LONDON, May 21.—The physicians of Andrew Bonar Law, retired British Prime Minister, this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Mr. Bonar Law has a slight operation on the throat today. Otherwise his condition is unchanged."

STANLEY BALDWIN IS NEW PREMIER

Chancellor of the Exchequer Is Bonar Law's Successor, As Prime Minister

Called to Premiership by King George who Hurries Back to London From Holiday—Sir Robert Horne is New Chancellor of the Exchequer in Baldwin Ministry

LONDON, May 22.—Stanley Baldwin is Great Britain's new Premier. He accepted the premiership offered him this afternoon by King George.

Was Choice of Conservatives

LONDON, May 22.—Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, visited Buckingham Palace this afternoon. It was presumed in political quarters that King George was offering him the premiership in succession to Mr. Bonar Law. The Central News says the leaders of the Conservative party selected Mr. Baldwin as premier, that he accepted and that Sir Robert Horne, former chancellor of the exchequer, has agreed to succeed Mr. Baldwin in that office.

King Hurries To London

LONDON, May 22.—The King will arrive in London this morning (Tuesday) according to the Times' informant. His prompt return suggests, the Times thinks, that the King has already decided upon whom to invite to the premiership and will extend the formal invitation immediately. In a double leaved editorial, apparently based on special information, the Times virtually rules out all the dark horses, such as the Earl of Balfour, Lord Derby and the Duke of Devonshire and contends that the choice necessarily lies between Lord Curzon and Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, either of whom, it believes, would be willing to serve under the other.

Not Pleased with Alberta Govt.

GOVERNMENT'S COURSE CRITICIZED

Rev. C. H. Huestis writes to the Press the following:

"A perusal of the proceedings of the Legislature of Alberta during its dying hours does not tend to establish in the breast of ordinary citizen confidence in either the courage or the competence of these new makers of our laws."

The evident fear on the part of the government to take any responsibility for the solution of one of the gravest social and economic problems of the day would have been ludicrous had it not been so pitiful.

The spectacle of both the Premier and the Attorney General bringing forth proposals which did not command the support of their followers must have made the opposition chortle with unalloyed glee.

And now what is it that is proposed? To submit to Tom and Dick and Mary and Jane four selected propositions—why just four? Why not forty?—for the solution of the Liquor problem, at the estimated cost to the long enduring taxpayer of a cool Quarter of a Million Dollars, besides the considerable additional amount which will be demanded by the temperance people and the liquor interests for propaganda.

Suppose the government, which is presumably a responsible one, had, had the courage to rescind the Direct Legislation Act, which is contrary to all tradition under responsible government, and had voted a quarter million for the study by competent minds of the whole question of how best to deal with the Liquor Evil there might have been some hope of a more or less permanent solution which could then have been made the subject of statutory enactment.

As it is we shall arrive no further than we are at present, for Tom and Dick and Mary and Jane will vote, if we are to judge by the past, in accordance with sentimentality and self-interest. And what more can you expect? If our lawmakers don't know how to solve the question, what can be expected from those humble people who placed them in the seats of power?

One can only hope that the majority of the electors, having six months to think over the matter will in the end record their votes in such a way as will throw upon the government the responsibility which they seem so anxious to avoid.

Otherwise we shall have another proof of the truth of Mr. H. L. Mencken's definition of democracy as "the theory that the boobies know what it wants and is going to get it good and hard."

Open Sensational P.O. Robbery Case Against Armstrong In Edmonton Court

Theft of $50,000 in Merchants Bank Bills is Charge Against Him

Clerks Testify That Packages Were Mailed

EDMONTON, May 21.—Trial of George S. Armstrong, former postmaster at Edmonton, on a charge of stealing from the local postoffice on or about August 10th, 1919, money packages of the value of $50,000, consigned to the Merchants Bank here, was commenced before Mr. Justice Macdonald and a jury in the criminal court Monday morning.

The charge to which the accused has pleaded not guilty is:

"That he did unlawfully and feloniously steal and convert to his own use and to the use of another, certain letters containing the sum of $50,000, from the Edmonton postoffice, the property of the Merchants Bank of Canada, on or about August 10th, 1919."

The trial opened Monday morning before a courtroom crowded to the doors.

The first witness called was E. A. Ackman, who in August 1919, was paying teller in the main office of the Merchants Bank, Winnipeg. He testified as to the money packages which are alleged to have been stolen being made up for mailing to Edmonton on August 7, 1919. One package, he said, contained 2,500 $10 bills; the second, 4,000 $5 bills; and the third, 1,500 bills of the denomination of $1 each.

Bad Man Kills One Policeman, Wounds Another

Big Man Hunt for Desperado Who Escaped From Jail and Defies Authorities

NORTH BAY, ONT., May 18.—Armed with a Winchester Rifle and two revolvers, Leo Rodgers, the desperado who escaped from the court room here on Wednesday rather than face a comparatively minor charge of carrying concealed weapons, is still at large. One of his pursuers is dead and another is in hospital seriously injured.

The entire district is aroused and many volunteers are joining with the Provincial Police to track down the fugitive, whose unerring aim, recklessness and his determination announced in a shot before a skirmish, "they'll never take me alive," makes him a man to be feared.

Rodgers had sworn to "get" plain clothes man, Fred Lefebvre, Chief of Police Mooney and Magistrate Weimar. Evidently urged on by a determination to revenge himself on these three men, he suddenly came into Touch with the the officers again, after making a clear get away on Wednesday forenoon.

Shot Simultaneously

Shortly after daybreak Fred Lefebvre and Rodgers suddenly found themselves facing each other on opposite sides of a small creek. Both rifles spoke almost simultaneously, but it was Lefebvre who fell, fatally injured with a bullet in his abdomen. He died in the hospital. Amid a fusillade of bullets, Rodgers ran across 500 yards of open field and was lost in the bush. He was last seen fleeing in the direction of Thornhill, a village on the C.P.R. line, six miles east of here. It is believed that he was hit by a bullet as he ran along an open space. Meanwhile, Provincial Police are pursuing on from the surrounding towns and hope to encircle Rodgers, who has been seen sagging on a firecracker to head off the road in that direction.

Bad Man Still At Liberty in North Ontario

Rogers, ex-Convict and Jail-breaker, Who Killed Constable, Raffles Police

NORTH BAY, ONT., May 21.—After five days of freedom, during which time he has terrorized the entire country from North Bay south to Powsong and east to Huronia, Leo Rodgers, ex-convict and murderer of Constable Fred Lefebvre, and for whose capture rewards totaling $1,500 have been offered, still has the police of North Bay and the Province completely baffled.

The week end passed without the slightest development that would lead the observer to suppose that the end of the hunt was near.

The police hold two theories regarding his present whereabouts. He is either living in wait somewhere in the bush between Galloway or Bonfield, or he has caught a freight train out of the district.

In the first case, it is believed, he will again make his appearance in North Bay to attempt to complete his avowed intention of killing Chief of Police Mooney and Magistrate Weimar.

The magistrate ordered him a little more than seven years ago to a term at Portsmouth penitentiary. Should he, on the other hand, succeed in jumping a freight, there is every reason to suppose that he is now miles away.

This is the opinion of Inspector Blackwell, of Haldimand who is assisting in directing the pursuit. Provincial inspectors Moore, of Cobalt, and Storie, of Sudbury, are also aiding.

More Hebrideans Canada Bound

THE Hebrideans are a home loving race of people not much given to wandering from their native haunts, but the arrival at St. John aboard the Canadian Pacific steamships Marloch and Metagama of over six hundred sturdy men and women of the western isle, forced by stern necessity to seek their fortunes in the land of promise is not without precedent. In the year 1803 a contingent of 111 was brought from the Isle of Mull by Lord Selkirk to develop the sheep industry on St. Clair Place, Kent County. If times were hard when these people left home, having farewell to loved ones on the Metagama. Life will not be a bed of roses for those who have newly arrived and they will have to work and hard; but this they can do. They are the descendants of the "birds of the isles" who by strength of arms repelled the invasions of the Scandinavians and Scots. Social and industrial development was retarded to a great extent by the clan system, but those who have adopted Canada are well educated and a simple life has given them a splendid physique and simple dexterity. Although forced by hard times to leave their homes to make new ones, most of them are in sufficient funds and not a few families aboard the Metagama were possessed of over £1,000. Some have stopped in Ontario but the larger proportion of them have come to Red Deer, Alberta, where they will form a small colony.

Abraham Martin Honored

Monument to First Scottish Settler,
First King's Pilot On the St.
Lawrence, and First Farmer on the Plains of Abraham Unveiled.

ABRAHAM MARTIN.
Auld Scotland many a hero boasts
From John o' Groats to Wigton's coasts,
Both Lowland lads and Highland boots
That wear the tartan,
But now another seeks your toasts,
Old Abram Martin.
But what pretence has he to fame,
That we should celebrate his name,
And thus in stone and bronze proclaim
His style and story?
A threefold plea can Martin claim
To all this glory.
The first of Scotia's sons was he
To cross Atlantic's stormy sea—
True pioneers of liberty,
Giving their best
That this Dominion fair might be
Blessing and blest.
See in his wake the glorious band,
MacKenzie, Fraser, foremost stand,
MacDonald, too, in high command,
And James McGill,
Mountstephen and Strathcona grand—
Twould Jesse fill.
The first was he to till this plain,
Now sacred to that fierce campaign
When heroes fell, but not in vain
In glorious strife,
O Canada, thine was the gain,
Renowned thy life!
He was the first to mark the tide,
The rocks, the shoals St. Lawrence bide.
The mariner in him confides
And baid his fears
"The ship," he cries, "in safety rides
When Martin steers!"
Though fate 'mong strangers cast his lot
He never forgot he was a Scot,
Thrifty and shrewd he was, I wot,
Cautious and gusey,
Proud of the nickname that he got,
"Abram o' Ecosse!"
Let us whate'er our race or creed,
This ancient Scot's example heed,
And give the best that's in our breed
That ours may be
A Canada in word and deed
High-souled and free.

At Quebec recently the Hon. Alphonse David, Provincial Secretary in the Quebec Cabinet, officiated at the unveiling of a monument erected by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in memory of Abraham Martin, who was the first known Canadian of Scottish descent and the first King's pilot on the St. Lawrence River. The statue of Abraham received their name from him, he received a grant of the land from Champlain in 1617. The unveiling of the monument, a handsome granite shaft seven feet high surmounted by a globe supported by basaltine, was an important event and was attended by a large number of prominent citizens and political representatives. The sturdy pioneer is further acclaimed by Andrew Patterson, who says:—

—A. Patterson.

CORN GROWING FOR -SILAGE-

Experimental Farm Note

The growing of silage crops has become more general in Western Canada during the past year or two, and one of the crops which is best suited for this purpose is Corn.

Over a large portion of the southern half the three provinces Corn can be grown profitably and, in any but exceptional years will yield good crops of fodder. The average yield of the field lots of Corn for the past ten years on the Experimental Farm at Indian Head is almost ten tons per acre.

The variety which suits our conditions best, yield and maturity considered, is North Western Dent. Other varieties may be more adapted to some districts, but for silage purposes and average conditions this variety is very suitable, as it gives a fairly good yield of fodder and will usually be sufficiently mature to make a first-class quality of silage.

Ground which would otherwise be summerfallow is entirely suitable for growing Corn. The method of preparation which appears to give the best results is that of manuring and plowing the ground the preceding fall. This gives an increased yield over spring plowing. The spring growth of weeds can then be killed by cultivation before the Corn is sown, and the harrowing just after the Corn is up will destroy a large number of weeds.

The date of seeding which gives the best yield appears to be from the 20th. to the end of May. Later seeding than this decreases the yield considerably.

Various methods of planting the Corn are followed, and all have their advocates. Check-rowing, or planting in hills three feet apart each way, permits of killing the weeds with very little necessity for hand labour, the ordinary two-row cultivator being able to destroy all but a small percentage of the weeds. A Corn planter is necessary for the check-row planting, and this is the most satisfactory implement to use even if the Corn is planted in rows, as the amount of seed can be regulated accurately and, in most cases, a substantial saving of seed can be made by its use.

Three to five seeds per hill will be found sufficient. In sowing in drills the drills should be three feet apart and the drill regulated to drop, as nearly as possible, one seed every six inches in the drill.

It is desirable to harrow the Corn as it is coming up, as this does not injure it materially and will destroy thousands of small weeds. The number of cultivations required will depend largely on the weed growth, but usually three thorough cultivations will be sufficient to keep down the weeds and promote the best development of the crop.

The corn will make the best quality of silage if allowed to grow until the kernels have reached the firm dough stage, or a little past the time when the ears are suitable for roasting.

The best implement for cutting the crop is, of course, the Corn binder, and, by a number of neighbours clubbing together, the individual cost of the machine can be greatly reduced.

Three of Canada's Buffalo for New Zealand

OTTAWA, Ont.—The city of Auckland, New Zealand has set aside 170 acres of land for Zoological Gardens and thenceforth that city has written to the Department of the Interior to ask for the gift of three buffalo to add to the nucleus of a collection of the wild animals of the world. It has been possible to accede to this request and arrangements are being made for the transfer of three buffalo, one male and two female, to the city of Auckland.

Here and There

Seeding in Alberta was two weeks later this year than last.

A second party of Swiss immigrants recently arrived at St. John aboard the Melita and are en route for the West, where they will engage in agriculture.

A company has been formed in London to exploit sunken treasure in the Atlantic, off the west coast of Greece. The promoters state that there is a matter of $45,000,000 in bullion and other forms still at the bottom of the Bay, where it was sunk with the united fleets of Egypt and Turkey by the united British, French and Russian fleets in 1827.

Last summer 4,000 forest fires cleared away at least ten times as many trees as were cut down for lumber, pulp and paper, and all other industrial purposes. A very large percentage of the fires were caused by careless campers and sportsmen who "thought it would do out" or "waved away a lighted match or cigarette end."

Improvement of camping facilities at Banff for automobile tourists is now being made. The Mount Assiniboine camp site is being improved and enlarged, and will be equipped with all modern appliances. It is expected that as a result of the opening of the Banff-Windermere road this year, the tourist traffic through Banff will be the heaviest ever recorded.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway, President E. W. Beatty pointed out the prospects for the immigration into Canada of the class of colonist urgently needed to develop the country's natural resources were much brighter than they had been in the past two or three years, and an increased traffic from Great Britain and Northern Europe was indicated by the largely increased western movement of the "summer" ships during the past four months of this year.

A Warning to Raisers of Pigs Feeds Garbage To Hogs, Is Warned

A case of interest in connection with the feeding of swine came up before Magistrate Barker on Friday morning. A Charge was laid by F. Lewis, Inspector of Health of the Animal's Dept., Ottawa, against Sam Mogus of 6th St., North Lethbridge, charging him with "Unlawfully feeding swine on garbage or swill obtained elsewhere than on his premises without having a 'Permit in writing' from the veterinary director-general of the Dominion of Canada, contrary to the provisions of the 'Animals Contagious Disease Act.'" Mogus was released, with the warning that he must stop the feeding immediately he left the court. The minimum penalty for the offence is a fine of $50, and the maximum $500. The magistrate treated the accused leniently in that he just left the hospital, was a young man with a family, and without means.

Rangley camps, which are operated in the Canadian Rockies, are to be built in the Park of the Rockies, Nipigon Bay and Lake of the Woods districts of Ontario by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Low cost of construction and maintenance will enable the company to offer lower rates than standard hotels. The first three will be ready for occupation by July 1st.

According to a recent rearrangement of ports of call, the Orient, the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, by omitting Manila as a port of call between Shanghai and Hong Kong, will bring the latter port four days nearer to Canada, the United States and Europe. This makes possible a through service from London, England, via Canada-Pacific Atlantic, to Vancouver and Seattle, and to Vancouver and Seattle via Canadian Pacific Expresses to Hong Kong and Japan.

Big Bill, the last surviving buffalo, at the Pinetree Park Zoo, St. Thomas, was recently shot. The animal had been suffering for some time from the same malady which killed the last of the wild buffalo, a few months ago. Big Bill was to have been a fine specimen of buffalo sent to the Government Park at Winnipeg, Saskatchewan.

Albert Steedwell, Canadian Pacific Railway engineer at Fort William, has an alibi dog that is a farm killer. Mr. Steedwell has a farm at Uxala, and while visiting the farm the dog routed out a brush pile and chased it. During the subsequent battle one could hardly tell whether it was the dog that was wolf. Mr. Steedwell went to the assistance of his pet and together they finished the wolf.

The number of strikes and lock-outs in Canada during 1922 was 85. The number of working men involved in the strikes was 41,000 and the number of working days lost 1,975,276. Approximately fifty per cent of the time lost was in connection with the strikes of the coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia which lasted from April till the end of August.

Topping the grain shipments from St. John of the 1921-22 winter season by almost four million bushels and establishing a record for the port for volume in a single shipment for that year, the 1922-23 grain business through the Canadian Pacific Express up to May 1st totalled 15,249,267 bushels. The single shipment record was made on an all-wheel cargo of 288,795 bushels.

A gold rush is in full swing and it is expected to bring about the development of more mining camps in the counties of Timiskaming and Alibon. Gold was discovered in these two counties early in 1922, and a rush of prospectors began in March of that year. In October, 256 claims were staked, comprising 50,000 acres of land, and it is about 30,000 acres have been staked.

Strychnine In Tobacco Chew Causes Death

This Should be a Warning to Others

Carelessness With Powder Cost Saskatchewan Farmer His Life

ROSAERT—Carelessness with powdered strychnine cost James Stephenson his life. This is the opinion expressed by the doctors who performed the autopsy here. The stomach of deceased is being sent to Regina for analysis.

Stephenson, according to the investigation, carried strychnine in his pocket, and strewed it into gopher holes on his land. He was dragging and it is believed the powder mixed with his tobacco. Stephenson took a chew of this and swallowed some later dying in a slough.

The Provincial Police after investigating, report finding a well beaten path around the drag at the end of the field, indicating the man must have walked in a circle for some time. Then the path led to a slough where the man waded in hip deep, and then went out to a low place near the end of the gully.

The body was found at the end of the gully, and there were superficial indications of poisoning.

Stephenson was a farmer about 25 years of age, single, and had prospered on his farm about 8 miles south West of Consul.
